RE: Expression of Interest to Participate in the Skill Development Training Under Naan Mudhalvan

Respected Sir/Madam,

Coursera, Inc. ("Coursera") is an education platform that partners with top universities and organizations worldwide to offer massive open online courses. Founded in 2012 by computer science professors, Coursera works with more than 140 universities and organizations globally to make some of their courses available online. Presently, Coursera offers around 5,000+ courses, and in multiple languages in the fields of humanities, social sciences, biology and life sciences, health and society, education, information/technology/design, economics and finances, and many others.

The State of Tamilnadu has taken the initiative to help in the upgradation of relevant skills via training programs in the existing / emerging sectors for the candidates/ students & faculty in the state of Tamilnadu through the Naan Mudhalvan Portal of Tamilnadu Skill Development Corporation ("TNSDC") by providing mandate courses.

Coursera having vast experience in the field of providing access to world class education by providing access to online educational content through its proprietary platform would like to participate in this great initiative taken by TNSDC subject to mutually agreed terms and conditions.

We look forward to a fruitful relationship.

Regards
